Lower river road transfer station vancouver wa

Scroll down or use these quick links to get answers to your questions about how you can use your basket for more recycling and less sorting, and what to do with other recyclable materials. Or use the new A-Z recycling tool on our website or available with the RecycleRight app for smartphones and tablets. S: Which plastics can't be put in the basket? A: In short, any plastic other than a bottle, tub, glass or bucket. These are examples of plastic materials that cannot be entered into the recycling basket: No Styrofoam™; without plastic containers for pulling out of restaurants; no foodstuffs produce bivalve molluscs as used in cherry potato or strawberry containers; and no plastic bags. Plastic bags are particularly hard for recycling systems that wrap around the shaft sorting equipment and jam machinery. The lids of the plastic containers shall not be recovered through the sorting system and must not be in the trolley. If the cap is from the screw on the bottle, it can stay on, although the bottle can be recycled with a cap or not. If the lid could jump out (like on a hot tub), you should stay off and go to the trash cart. In: Where does the glass go? A: Use a separate container or recycler for recycling bottles and jars; only for the glass. Broken glass and paper must not be mixed as fragments and other pieces of broken glass can cause major problems in buildings where materials are sorted and in mills where the paper is recycled. Simply place the glass bin next to the recycling basket for collection on your regular collection day. You'll only have to determine this when it's full. Your efforts to keep the glass separate will help maintain the quality of recycled materials collected on the perimeter, providing high-quality materials for end-users and keeping them out of landfill. In: Where can you recycle plastic that doesn't go into the recycling trolley? A: Many grocery stores accept clean plastic recycling bags if you don't have the opportunity to use them again at home. Or better yet, consider using reusable bags for shopping to reduce the amount of plastic bags you receive. Check the Online A-Z Recycling Wizard www.cityofvancouver.us/recycling and look for plastic recycling options that aren't accepted at portable stations. (See below for station information.) In: Where do I put batteries, antifreeze and motor oil to recycle the fringes? A: Please place your used motor oil or antifreeze in a 1-gallon, clear plastic jug with a screw cap and place them next to your only glass bin early in the morning recycling collection. If possible, clearly mark the carafe as the oil used or the antifreeze used. For recycling household batteries -- AA, AAA, C, D, Lithium, Mercury, Ni-Cad - put the batteries in clear, re-seal the plastic bag and place them on the lid of your new recycled In: When should I set my recycling for collection? A: As scheduled every few weeks you have a recycling basket and glass bin in the toilet along with batteries, antifreeze or motor oil oil 6.m day of collection. After the collections have been made, be a good neighbour by removing recycling trolleys and rubbish from the trolley and returning them to your own yard or garage as soon as possible for you. In: Why do I need to have space between a garbage cart and a recycling cart? A: Trucks that service pavements, including shipbuilding debris for those who subscribe to this service, have automated hands wrapped around the side of the stroller. The trolley must be 10 metres away from each other and 1.5 metres from cars and other objects or not empty. If drivers try to empty the stroller when they are too close, they can overturn the trolley or potentially damage the property near the carriages. A: How does the driver know whether there is recycling or rubbish in the basket? A: All recycling trucks have video cameras to monitor your recycling baskets for trash and glass. Once the materials are dumped at the portable station, they will be able to visually inspect items that are not accepted in the program. Your efforts to follow the instructions on the poster that comes with your new recycling basket are greatly appreciated. In: Where should I take the material you don't accept curbside? A: Visit www.cityofvancouver.us/recycling for lists of where to take hundreds of other items such as sports equipment, hazardous waste, electronic devices and more. Many items can also be carried to portable stations. Check the information below, but make sure to call before driving if you have any questions. The newsletter Recycling done correctly contains useful information that you can use every day and every day. See the newsletter here. Vancouver and Clark County can also find options for reusing, recycling or dumping even more items in A-Z recycling. Are you interested in recycling and more? Keep reading! Plastic Recycling & Plastic Film Vancouver residents can use their blue recycling cart to recycle lots of plastic on the bases. These plastics in a blue recycled trolley: clean plastic bottles; yoghurt, margarine and other pure vats; and 5-gallons or less baby pots and buckets. Click here to learn more about what can go into the recycling basket. You can also recycle the same plastics that go into the cart at local transfer stations drop-down areas: West Van Materials and Central Transfer and Recycling. (See location information and more here.) You have plastic bags and/or plastic which you cannot reuse? These items can be taken to any of the three recycling stations. You can also take bags and film back to the store for recycling in composite building materials and other products. Find a collection bin near the entrance of the participating stores. On our website, see the location of the store and more www.cityofvancouver.us/beyondbags. Or use a handy A-Z recycling widget! Please note: Due to changes in the markets, there are currently no local options for recycling plastic shells, tray parts and lids. Additional updates will be published here as the information is available. Block Foam Recycling Vancouver and Clark County residents can now recite block foam all year round! Good tip: Take a block of foam on a work day to avoid a rush weekend. If the label says DANGER, POISON, WARNING or WARNING, please note that the product is dangerous. What should we do with it when it's no longer wanted or needed? Be safe! The people of Vancouver have different options for the proper disposal of household hazardous waste. Visit our website with hazardous waste in the household to find out more. Not sure if this is household hazardous waste? Find our A-Z waste recycling wizard. Recycle fluorescent lights From 1 January to 31 December 2016. LightRecycle Washington collection sites will take traditional fluorescent tubes (including straight, curved and circular tubes), twisty compact fluorescent lights and high intensity discharge lights commonly used in external lamps. The program does not accept luminous anchorages or ballasts. Both individuals and businesses can put off the lights for recycling, even though the limit is 10 lights a day. Find locations and other information on LightRecycle Washington's website at www.lightrecyclewa.org. Remove unwanted medicines What are you doing with medicines you no longer need or want? Answer: Remove the drugs at approved locations across Clark County throughout the year. Remember: Never flush the unwanted medicine into the toilet or dispose of them in a drain where it may harm the environment. Controlled substances, such as painkillers, can be transferred to participating law enforcement agencies. Substances that are not controlled, such as medicines that are not controlled, may be taken into participating pharmacies. Click here for more details on the safe disposal of unwanted medicines. How's the weather? Severe weather can cause a number of problems related to waste and recycling. Here are some tips Facts you should know: When strong, high winds are forecast, please take out the rubbish and recycle by the morning of collection, if possible. You will avoid being ed out of the container, and your neighbors will thank you too! Remember that you have your items on the perimeter in the morning when the pick-up starts at 6:30 a.m. The owner of the private property is responsible for the succumbing limb and trees on private property.
